ABOUT US

Each morning at 8:07 AM, the staff of Sophia Institute gathers for prayer concluding with "...that we shall succeed beyond our fondest hopes and desires, if only we are devoted to Your Sacred Heart."

There is no doubt that over the past 30 years our efforts have succeeded beyond our wildest expectations, and we are deeply grateful to you for helping us lead so many souls to Christ.

We are publishing many of the most beloved Catholic authors and distributing well over one million influential books per year.

We set bold, audacious goals each year, and thanks to God's grace, we exceed them "beyond our fondest hopes and desires" each and every year. Please keep our work and our staff in your prayers as we carry out our mission of leading souls to heaven.

We thank you for your continued partnership with Sophia Institute Press.

Fr. Gabriele Amorth

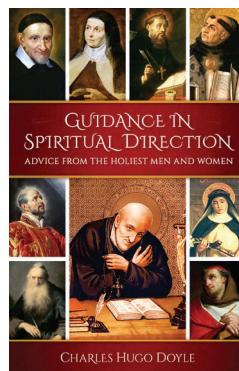

112 pages Pub Date: 2/20/24

979-8-88911-120-7

$16.95 | 5.5 x 8.5 | Paperback

Fr. Gabriele Amorth, known as "the Pope's Exorcist," exposes the reality of evil and lays out what our response should be in a time when the devil appears more powerful and cunningly alluring than ever. Our age, Fr. Amorth explains, is seduced by the wiles of the enemy – either through fascination with the occult or through willful ignorance. There is, however, nothing to fear when we put on the armor of God.

979-8-88911-002-6

$18.95 | 5.5x8.5 | Paperback

Leaving no stone unturned, award-winning film producer and human rights activist Jason Jones incisively lays out a full-scale campaign against this "Great Reset" to help equip you with the armor to protect and defend yourself, your loved ones, and all those vulnerable to the antihuman designs of global elites who have demonstrated a propensity for trampling basic human rights to achieve their one-world vision.

Messori adopts a compelling journalistic approach, drawing from Blaise Pascal and an array of philosophers, historians, and theologians. As he breaks open the Gospels, you will perceive his shift from doubt and indifference to fascinating discovery and wonder.

Christendom is no more. In this book, we'll look at just how bad the situation is, and how much worse it's going to get. Then we'll discuss how Christians can survive—even flourish—in the coming Dark Age. And I believe that we will flourish. Once again, the tears of the mystics, the sweat of the missionaries, and the blood of the martyrs will become the seed of the Church.

In this incisive work, Bill Donohue pulls no punches as he contends that our moral crisis is a reflection of two competing visions of morality – one religious and the other secular. The former is grounded in our Judeo-Christian tradition, the latter in radical notions of liberty and equality that are tearing us asunder.

A Heart for the World

Susan Joy Bellavance

"This book celebrates the extraordinary life of the first American saint, Mother Cabrini, a woman of strength and courage who profoundly impacted the lives of countless impoverished immigrants – including my own family, who arrived from Italy in the early 20th century."

- Anthony DeStefano, Bestselling Author

Four children huddle together in a tunnel under the streets of New York. The foul waters of the sewer rush past. A cold wind stings their faces. Coughs that sound like barking dogs echo in the blackness of the narrow passageway.

"I miss Mama," Gilda cries.

Her little sister Angelina sniffles. "And Papa."

Paolo presses his hand against his stomach. "I'm hungry," he says.

A rat scurries out from a pile of trash. It runs over Paolo's foot, and another follows. The children scream.

Lucia wraps her arms around the little ones. Her empty tummy growls. Their begging on the street brought them no food.

"Why don't Americans like us?" Paolo wonders.

"Because we are Italians and not from this country," Lucia says. "And we are alone."

Girls and boys crowd around the table in the orphanage. Their spoons clink against bowls, and their laughter swirls in every corner of the room.

Paolo hands Francesca a letter. "This just came for you," he says.

"The orphanage is going to be closed down," Francesca reads. "They say this home is not safe and clean, but that is not true."
